

Workplace Rehabilitation Services

“Thanks to the services provided by Interwork after my accident, I am now able and ready to go back to work.”

Interwork Ltd is one of South Australia's largest specialist disability employment agencies, providing employment programs, services and support to people who experience disability, long-term injury or other life disadvantages.

A not-for-profit, community service organisation with more than 20 years experience in the disability employment sector. Working with over 500 employers and community organisations of all sizes, across all industry sectors to provide tailored solutions to their employment needs.

Interwork is an accredited provider of Workplace Rehabilitation Services and have established a growing business in the South Australia Workers Compensation market.

In keeping with Interworks vision of supporting people who experience disadvantages in accessing open employment, Workplace Rehabilitation Services provide a commitment to:

- Respect, innovation and structure within professional relationships
- Transparency and accountability
- Individual responsibility
- Empowering ownership of opportunity and independence in the pursuit of life goals

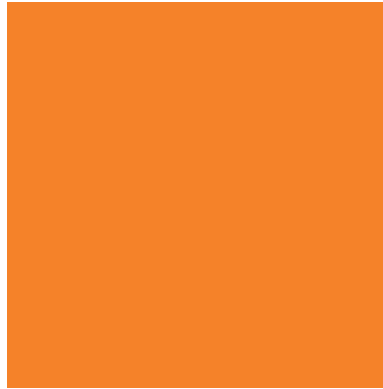

“I love my job and I’m grateful that my employer values my contribution.”

Interwork provides a variety of services that benefit the injured client and the employer.

- Return To Work Services: Management and coordination of rehabilitation to support injured clients achieve the best possible level of recovery and a safe and sustainable RTW with their employer.
- Employment Transition: Assisting injured clients who are unable to return to their pre injury employer with career transition services such as career coaching, identification of job options, resume and employment application development, interview skills, and knowledge access of how to job search.
- Pathways to Work, Workcover Skills, RTW Fund Project: Interwork were successful in achieving a Workcover grant to facilitate an innovative 12 months project for job ready clients to be supported by experienced Employment Consultants to overcome their barriers and commence paid employment. This project has achieved some great results – resulting in an extension of services until the end of June 2012. We will continue to share examples of our success by posting good news stories on our website.
